WEEKLY REVIEW OF SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES

New Corporations Formed in Dixie Land During the Week Just Passed.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Mar. 9.—The investment and development movement which has been dominant throughout the south with more than usual strength for the past two years seems to gather momentum as the months pass by, and activity in these lines is greater today than any of the rosate periods in the history of this section. A convincing illustration of this point is found in the weekly summaries prepared by The Tradesman, compiled from the verified reports received by that conservative and reliable trade publication whose efforts are confined to exploiting the business interests of the southern states. The accompanying list of new industries established in the south is the record of just one week, the six days' period ending today. Among the new concerns will be observed three or more which are capitalized at $500,000, and one whose authorized capital is $600,000. It should be explained that in this weekly report only the more important new industries are noted, there being doubtless many with small capitalization that are not intended to be included in this list. This is a most important and significant showing for the south—a reliable mirror in which is reflected the greatest industrial movement that this section has ever experienced. Its careful perusal will be a means of positive instruction to those who are interested in the great growth of the south.

The Tradesman's list for new industries established in the south during the week ending today is as follows:

Ausley & Co.'s Daily Cotton Letter.
New York, Mar. 9.—Liverpool was 2 points higher on spots sales of 12,000 while futures were 4 to 5 points higher. There doesn't seem to be any let up whatever in the spot demand on the other side of the water, cables stating that spinners were taking everything in sight both English and continental.

Spot cotton is active which characterizes other branches of speculation in spite of the fact that the spot market at Liverpool is on an extraordinary large scale and that Manchester is active and very strong, that domestic manufacturers are in many cases sold away ahead, that the southwestern movement of the crop is beginning to fall off (the into sight for the week being estimated at 152,000 to 162,000 bales against 216,000 the same week last year), that the crop preparations in the Atlantic states are backward, and that the rains in the southwest are also delaying preparations.

What is needed to start the upward movement of sufficient proportions to be of benefit is a greater interest in the market on the part of the outside public and without this speculation must continue to be a comparatively narrow affair. The outsider seems content to sit down and let Mr. Jordan fix it for him, and how successful he is as a fixer of prices the 200 point decline from the high of the season is the best evidence.

Railroad agents report the movement of fertilizer to be one month earlier than last year, and while the weather during January and February was somewhat unfavorable, there is yet ample time for seeding and to recover the time lost. The Journal of Commerce, one of the best authorities says: "The acreage will be big; it may be 5 to 10 per cent. larger than last year, but not acreage alone, but weather and acreage combined make the crop and it has happened more than once in the history of cotton culture that a big acreage has produced a smaller yield than a comparatively light acreage. The weather is decidedly a big factor and who can predict the weather."
